SAVE THESE INSTRUCTIONS FOR FUTURE REFERENCE.

When you receive your New Frontier Cook-All you should have the following items:

1. Pan;
2. Support Stand;
3. Canvas Tote Bag

You will notice the pan has a coating of cooking oil. This is to protect the pan during shipping. Prior to using your new Cook-All, we recommend you wash the pan in hot soapy water, using a dish liquid that contains a grease cutting ingredient. Make sure to thoroughly rinse after washing.

Now you are ready to season the pan.

Seasoning Instructions: You may season the pan in much the same way you would a cast iron skillet or by rubbing the heated pan with table salt and peanut oil. Make sure you do NOT try to season a HOT pan by touching the pan directly with your hands. This can cause serious personal injury. The pan will continue to season with use. Once you have seasoned the pan, do NOT clean with a scouring pad or harsh detergents.

To clean the pan after cooking, simply pour approximately one cup of clean water onto the surface of the hot pan. As the water flashes to steam it will loosen any food particles. Now you may empty the pan and wipe clean. Make sure to use a protective heat mit or glove when handling a hot/warm pan. Cleaning by this method will allow the surface of the pan to remain seasoned.

Storage: Once the pan has been cleaned and completely cooled it may be stored inside the Canvas Tote Bag provided with your Cook-All. You may then store the Cook-All inside of a completely cooled New Frontier Campfire.

Cooking Instructions: Below you will find a guide for cooking on your Cook-All:
